New Ice Rink At Park Opens On Oct. 27th

Dedication is Planned For Sunday, Nov. 12th With Special Program

The Granite City Park District's new ice skating rink at Wilson park will open for skaters on Friday, Oct. 27, it was announced Tuesday by Barry Loman, president of the park board.

Plans also are being made for a formal dedication of the rink Sunday, Nov. 12 at 2 p.m., Loman said.

The rink will open at 9 a.m. on the opening day because that particular Friday is a school holiday. It will open at 9 a.m. the following day, Saturday, and at 1 p.m. on Sunday of that weekend.

Harold Brown, park superintendent, said that normally the rink will open at 3 p.m. on weekdays because children, who will be most frequent users of the rink, are in school. Exceptions will be especially arranged instruction classes for women, Brown said.

Dedication Planning Loman said plans for the dedication program are only in the beginning stages, but it is planned to invite members of the civic committee and persons who worked for passage of the $475,000 bond issue to witness the skating rink, as well as city officials and other area dignitaries.

The opening date was set following an inspection of the rink by park board members, accompanied by Henry Gabriel and Sylvester Duforget, architects who designed and supervised construction of the rink, which has a standard 85x185-foot skating area.

Loman said the inspection touches still to be put on the rink. None of these are major jobs, Loman said, and most of it is interior work except completion of the cyclone fence built around the rink building.

Largest remaining job is laying of a special composition, interlocking floor tile in the walking areas around the skating area, in the patio and in the warming room. Tile is on order.

Young Father Dies Just Before Son is Born

Rennie Guin Cagle, 20, of 2022 Rhodes street, who received a medical discharge from the Army in March 1966, was pronounced dead upon arrival at 5:45 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Cagle was discovered lying on the floor on the front porch of his home by two neighbors who rushed him to the hospital by private car. He apparently collapsed from a circulatory ailment. An inquest is pending.

Just 12 hours after Mr. Cagle's death, his wife, Donna, gave birth to their first child, a son, Bonnie Monar of Granite City at DePaul Hospital, St. Louis. The infant was named Rennie Guin Cagle Jr.

Born at Pontiac, Ark., Mr. Cagle had lived in Venice for eight years prior to moving to Granite City one month ago. He entered the Army in March 1965 and was granted a medical discharge one year later. Since that time he had been employed at Hlava Garage in Venice.

Besides his wife and infant son, Mr. Cagle is survived by his parents, Joe and Pearl Cagle of Venice; two sisters, Mrs. Bonnie Monar of Granite City and Miss Gracelin Cagle of Venice; and two brothers, Roland and Kevin Cagle of Venice.

Funeral services were held today at Rectory. Ark. Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

SIU-SW Revising Student Housing Plans for Campus

Plans for construction of 310 million dollars worth of student housing at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus will be rewritten for presentation to the Illinois State Board of Higher Education in its November meeting, it was reported today.

Revision of the plans was decided upon in a meeting between Dr. John Rendleman, SIU vice-president for Business, and Dr. Keith Smith, associate director of the Higher Education board, at Springfield Tuesday.

The SIU board of trustees had hoped to get the matter on the board's agenda at the Oct. 3 meeting, but Dr. Rendleman was advised this did not provide sufficient time for a review of the program. It is customary for the board staff to review all programs before the board takes a stand on a request.

Rendleman is scheduled to rewrite the proposal and meet again with Smith before the Nov. 7 meeting of the state board. The SIU board of trustees agreed last week to seek permission to build campus housing for 1000 single students and for 250 married students at the Southwestern campus.

Musso Asks More Deputies, New Autos, Higher Wages

Madison County Sheriff George Musso was to meet in Edwardsville today with the county board of supervisors to seek staff and salary increases that would boost the budget for the sheriff's office by $200,000. Musso said he planned to ask the committee to add more deputies for his staff, two new automobiles, a $100 monthly salary increase for all deputies and enough money to provide uniforms for seven court bailiffs, three courthouse matrons, an elevator operator and five janitors. The sheriff pointed out that

Burglary Tools Taken From Suspect Charged in the Break-In at St. Peter United Church of Christ Monday Night

A burglar was surprised in the office of St. Peter United Church of Christ, 2103 Cleveland blvd., by Rev. Robert J. Baumann, pastor, at about 9 p.m. Monday.

The intruder fled from the building after attempting to strike the minister with a pry bar several times. He was chased by a visitor at the parsonage and by police before being caught in the 2000 block of Adams street.

Charged with burglary, aggravated assault and possession of burglary tools was George Bentz, 42, of 2055 Cleveland blvd., who police said had served two prison terms for burglary and was on parole from San Diego, Cal.

Bentz was bound over to the Madison county grand jury Wednesday afternoon by Magistrate Matosian and was held on bonds totaling $30,000. The case was to be presented to the county grand jury which is in session this week in Edwardsville.

Third Burglary It was the third time this year that the church has been burglarized. Rev. Baumann said he was inspecting the church for the night and saw a window had been removed. Continuing his inspection he discovered a man crouching behind a counter in the office.

In disgust, he said, "Why do you guys keep wrecking the place? We don't keep much money here."

The man replied, "I know it," and then lunged with the pry bar. Rev. Baumann, who was between the intruder and the door, was able to duck.

After the intruder ran, Rev. Baumann returned to the parsonage and nervously reported the event. The visitor, William "Mike" Jenkins Jr., 2158 State street, immediately left and ran, and Jenkins chased him along the streets, down an alley and through Emerson school yard.

Warning Shot Fired Meanwhile, Rev. Baumann called the police, and four officers were dispatched to the area. Bentz was seen by Patrolman Farrell, 2312 Clark avenue, reported to sheriff's deputies at 10:30 p.m. yesterday that her home was broken into between 7 and 10 p.m. Entry was gained by cutting the screen door at the front of the house and breaking out a glass in the door. Only item missing, deputies reported, was a television set.

County Auditor John Kravynak has estimated the Madison county budget this year will increase from 10 to 15% over last year's $4.5 million appropriation.

deputies now receive only $475 per month and remarked that "we're running a poverty program among our deputies and it isn't fair."

Circuit Clerk Willard Portell said he would be present at the committee's hearings. The Finance committee is conducting hearings for department heads from 9 a.m. until noon daily. Hearings are expected to continue for another month.

Conference With U. S. On Venice Schools

Assignment of Pupils Studied; Justice Dept. Attorneys Here Oct. 2

The Venice school board will confer with U.S. Department of Justice officials at its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Oct. 2, on plans for reassignment of students and alleged segregation, it was learned yesterday from President Michael Letterman Jr.

Also heard will be residents who have comments on a tentative plan to place all fifth through eighth graders in the Lincoln building effective Oct. 16, with all kindergarten through fourth grade pupils in the Venice grade school.

Attorneys representing the U.S. attorney general's office in Washington conferred with Supt. John O. Pier and two board members in late summer, proposing reassignment of students to the Venice school building effective Oct. 16, with an unspecified effective date. The proposed division of the enrollment between the fourth and fifth grades was then forwarded to Washington, the board president explained.

Initial plans for the Oct. 16 change — classroom furniture was to be moved during the Oct. 12-14 school holiday period — were presented to teachers Sept. 22. Students were to be given notices Monday, but no notices were issued.

At the meeting, petitions of 10 or more members who conferred Sunday decided to await next week's conference with the federal officials. They also agreed to consider contents of several petitions reported to be in circulation. Letterman said he has not seen the petitions but understands they either object to the reassignment or seek clarification.

On possible alternative procedure calls for sale of Lincoln school building.

Inch of Rain this Week Brings Temperature Dip

An overnight thunderstorm marked by brief gusty winds dropped 1.12 inches of rain and the temperature for the Quad-City area Tuesday night and early Tuesday morning, with another .04 of an inch recorded this morning, according to rain gauge measurements at the Chain of Rocks Canal.

The total of 1.16 inches during the past two days increased rainfall for the 25 days of September to 4.14 inches, or 1.38 inch above the September normal of 2.76 inches. The storm hit about 9 p.m. Tuesday following several minutes of high-gusting winds which did little damage in the area.

Only damage reported as a result of the wind was the falling of a tree in the alley at the rear of 200 Kerr street in Venice, which knocked down a series of telephone and power lines.

Rainfall thus far this year now measures 26.33 inches, including the September measurements. This is only .52 of an inch less than the normal fall of 27.05 inches for this period of the year.

Firms Urge Exact Air Standards, Not Variables

Noting that air pollution control procedures may be a topic at tomorrow night's Granite City aldermanic meeting, the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities today issued a statement urging specific attainable standards rather than variable requirements determined administratively.

Calling for a "government of laws, not men," William F. Hoelscher, general manager and secretary of the association, supported adherence to state air standards and an amendment to eliminate unenforceable sections of the city law added in July.

Hoelscher said, "The current issue before the city council on proposed amendment of the Granite City air pollution control ordinance is not whether there shall be clean air, but rather which method should the city use in obtaining clean air in the shortest possible time."

"Raymond R. Tucker, ex-mayor of St. Louis and a nationally respected authority on air pollution control, in a recent address before the present Granite City ordinance as compared to the regulations of the state of Illinois, stated: 'One should remember that the passage of an ordinance does not, in itself, remove one grain of dust or one part per million of sulphur dioxide. And neither does the establishment of goals in the ordinance accomplish this purpose. There must be standards which are attainable to provide a means of making progress toward your goals.'"

Goals Shown as Requirements One of the basic objectives of the present Granite City ordinance," Hoelscher commented, "is that it sets forth goals in the ordinance unenforceable, in the considered opinion of the state's air pollution control officials, but it leaves out one of the essential elements of a control program."

In commenting on this, Mayor Tucker said: "There are

1 DAY WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC DEATH

The vote-switcher of last week was Alderman Claude Green, who on Sept. 18 first voted "yes" for the amendment ordinance to go on first reading, then changed to "no" and later, as Mayor Partney said, he would support the measure recommended by the city Air Pollution Control board, went back to a "yes" vote.

At the Sept. 19 adjourned meeting, Green submitted a motion, approved 10-5, that the council, for his vote to be changed to "yes," but Mayor Partney refused to recognize the motion, saying he was waiting for the legal opinions.

Should the amending ordinance go on first reading Friday, it is expected to go to the full route of second reading, then passage and a veto. The

Mitchell Boy, 16, Killed by Car on Highway

Victim Chas. Boyer Is DOA; 10 Persons Hurt in Other Crashes

A Prather junior high school student who was struck by a car and killed near his home Tuesday evening became the Quad-City area's 14th traffic fatality this year.

Charles E. Boyer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Boyer of Rural Route One, Box 680, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 9:35 p.m. Tuesday. He suffered head injuries.

The youth was crossing East Chain of Rocks road, 20 yards east of Maryville road, when he was knocked down by an auto operated by Merrell D. Nipper Jr., 18, of Rural Route One, Box 165.

According to state police, the Boyer youth had just alighted from a vehicle driven by William Jacoby, 32, also of Rural Route One, which had halted at the Maryville road stop sign to permit him to walk the remaining short distance home. The Prather student and Henry Murphy of Granite City, also a passenger in Jacoby's auto, had been visiting at the Murphy home.

A heavy rainstorm occurred shortly after the mishap and state police reported the pavement was dry at the time of the accident.

The youths, Gary and Mark Kelly of Mitchell were passengers in the Nipper auto. A native Granite Cityan, the 16-year-old Nipper resided here his entire life. He attended the Assembly of God Church in Granite City.

Besides his parents, also surviving are two brothers, William and Lacey, and a sister, Carrie Boyer, at home.

Arrangements were held at 2 p.m. today. Arrangements are given elsewhere in this issue.

Prior to Tuesday's fatality, the Quad-City area had been without a traffic death for 44 days. Seven traffic fatalities were recorded at the end of August, compared to 23 deaths during the same period last year. In addition, traffic deaths occurred in the Quad-Cities last September.

Two adults and three children sustained cuts and bruises Tuesday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Route 3 and East Chain of Rocks road (Old Route 66-40). All were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

State police reported a car made a left turn from Route 3 onto East Chain of Rocks road, driven by Mrs. Patricia Carpenter, 2155 Oxford avenue, turned into the path of a northbound auto operated by Gayland R. Waldo, 37, of 520 Fleming place.

Mrs. Modrusic and her two children, Lori, 18 months, and Jerry, 3½ years, were treated for bruises and abrasions, with the children confined overnight for observation. Waldo, who sustained a head cut and abrasions to his left arm and thigh, and his daughter, Kathy, 5, who had small head abrasions, were treated in the emergency room and released.

Waldo's wife, Patricia, was unhurt in the mishap.

1967 Auto Demolished Mary Kay Hahne, 53, of 1923a Grand avenue, was injured when an auto in which she was riding, driven by Gerald P. Carpenter, 211 Abbott street, struck the Granite City Steel Co. fence and a Union Electric Co. utility pole at 7:20 p.m. Monday at 18th street and Madison avenue.

The 1967 auto, which was demolished, was towed to a garage. Carpenter, who was unhurt, said an unknown vehicle was stopped in front of him and he swerved to avoid it. A witness sitting near the 18th street stop sign said Carpenter was going at a high rate of speed and the other vehicle was waiting to make a left turn. Carpenter was charged with careless driving.

The Hahne woman was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for (Continued on page 6, col. 8.)

700 Attending 3-Day Illinois Park Meet

More than 700 delegates from park districts and recreation units throughout Illinois gathered in St. Louis today to convene the 40th annual conference of the Illinois Association of Park Districts and the Illinois Park and Recreation Society. The conference is being hosted by Granite City, Venice and East St. Louis park officials and mayors of the three cities, Donald Partney of Granite City, John E. Lee of Venice and Alvin G. Fields of East St. Louis, were to participate in this morning's general opening sessions. Election of officers by both state groups also was scheduled this morning and results are to be announced this afternoon during a luncheon session by W. L. McCullough, IAPD president, and Robert F. Tolson, president of the IPRS. Sessions of the conference are being held at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel.

Robert L. Burnes, executive sports editor of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, was to be the featured speaker at today's luncheon session on the subject, "The Dangers of Sport." Official Guests: Guests at the conference, which will continue through Saturday, include Wayne Kennedy, Commissioner of Recreation, St. Louis; William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation; John A. Troike, chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission; Miss Vera Rensvold, district representative of the National Recreation and Park Association, and Robert L. Horney, district representative of the National Recreation and Park Association. Harold Brown, superintendent of the Granite City park district, is head of the tour committee and has organized a series of tours to scenic spots and sites of interest. These include bus excursions to the Missouri Botanical Garden, the St. Louis Zoo, the Anheuser-Busch brewery, the Falstaff Museum of Brewing, a boat trip on the "Huck Finn" and the Fairmount Park Jockey Club. Brown has scheduled trips for the women to the Charlotte Peters TV show, the Marty Bronson TV show and to several historical landmarks, including the Eugene Field House and Museum, the Old Cathedral, the Old Courthouse and the Gateway Arch.

DR. EUGENE WEHRLI Dr. Wehrli to Address New Teachers Tonight

Dr. Eugene S. Wehrli, professor of New Testament theology at Eden Seminary, will speak at the annual local clergy-teacher dinner at 6:30 tonight at St. John's United Church of Christ. Sponsored by the Quad-City Ministerial Association, the dinner each year welcomes new teachers of the Venice, Madison and Granite City school districts. Attending also will be principals, school administrators, pastors and wives. Dr. Wehrli has long been associated with education, having made major contributions to the educational materials of the United Church of Christ, it was noted by Rev. James Craddock, association public relations chairman. About 150 are expected to attend.

Kerner Proclaims Oct. 1-7 As 'Plant Illinois Week'

Gov. Otto Kerner has designated Oct. 1-7 as "Plant Illinois Week" to encourage the planting of trees, shrubs and flowering plants to enhance the natural beauty of the state. The "Week" coincides with similar observances in almost every state in the country as a result of a resolution passed this year by Congress. Authorities fostering the national beautification effort, which has been strongly backed by the White House, stress the importance of a beautiful environment in shaping human behavior patterns and in enriching daily living. They also cite improved property values, in addition to the comfort and esthetic values, which result from properly done landscaping. Gov. Kerner has urged homeowners, businessmen, civic groups and service organizations to actively participate in this observance. Fall is an excellent time to plant. Trees and shrubs transplanted now while dormant will have a longer time to become adjusted to a new environment before the active growing season arrives, they explain. Flowering trees planted now will reduce the homeowner or businessman with their beauty earlier in the season than if they were transplanted in the spring, it was pointed out.

Members of the Granite City and Venice park boards are working with Brown in handling transportation problems and seeing that delegates are well cared for. Barry Loman, president of the Granite City park board, said he hopes to make arrangements for a number of park board delegates to inspect the new ice skating rink now nearing completion in Wilson Park. Loman will serve as chairman of the annual banquet scheduled tomorrow night at the hotel. Numerous business sessions are scheduled throughout the three days of the conference. The meetings and lectures will deal with problems confronting Illinois park administrators and will involve improved procedure in park beautification, safety, service to the ill and handicapped, tax levies, teenage programming and fees and charges.

Names and addresses of former Spars may be sent to: Spar Silver Anniversary Chairman, c/o U. S. Coast Guard, 1300 E. Street NW, Ste. 2-3, Washington, D. C. 20591.

State Hospital Sets Orientation For Volunteers

Mrs. Marjorie Dintelmann, volunteer services coordinator at Alton State Hospital, announced today the fall orientation class for new volunteers will be held Wednesday, Oct. 11 from 9 a.m. to noon. The final session will convene on Wednesday, Oct. 18, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and persons attending that day are requested to carry a sack lunch. Coffee will be furnished by Volunteer Services. Mrs. Dintelmann said, "Orientation classes consist of talks by members of the professional and administrative staff concerning hospital procedures, treatment and various therapies. The program is designed to enlighten new volunteers as to the many service opportunities available to them." Both individual and group volunteers, as well as prospective members are urged to attend. Individual volunteers are asked to give three hours service per week by assisting staff in nursing and activities therapies programs. Mrs. Dintelmann said the training is given periodically to familiarize new volunteers with the hospital and its policies, and anyone desiring further information about the program may contact the Volunteer office. With two runs in, two out and two strikes on the next batter, the third strike was dropped. Instead of throwing the batter out, the catcher tried to catch a runner off third base but his throw went into left field.

Getting doubles for Venice were Jim Miller and Pitcher Larry Monby.

Venice now has a record of 2-2 in the conference and will play Friday at Warden. It has one remaining game, at St. Paul of Highland, to be scheduled later.

Season's Final Boat Racing Event Sunday

The St. Louis Gateway Boat Racing Association, headed by Ray Dennington of Collinsville, plans its final racing meet of the season at Horseshoe Lake this Sunday. A drivers' meeting for rules clarification is set for noon, with racing events getting under way at 1 p.m.

Dennington reports that eight classes of racing craft, including single-engine stock, multi-engine stock, 50 horsepower and over; single engine modified; multi-engine modified and pleasure boats; and Classes V and VI.

In the last racing meet held at Horseshoe Lake, about 35 boats and drivers competed in the same eight classifications.

Throughout the 1967 season, area boat racing events have drawn record-breaking crowds, with overall attendance estimated at close to 200,000 spectators.

He pointed out that Sunday's meet, sanctioned by the National Outboard Association, is expected to attract several top drivers anxious to compete in this year's final racing event here.

GCHS Hosts Kahoks, Trojans Visit Highland As League Seasons Open

Championship competition will begin in area high school football conferences this weekend, adding interest to a schedule of games that includes Collinsville at Granite City and Madison at Highland at 8 p.m. Friday.

None of the four teams ranks as a title favorite but each has a chance for a better-than-average season if it can begin league play victoriously tomorrow night.

Victory has been somewhat elusive this year for all of the four teams except Madison, which has edged O'Fallon 14-12 and crushed Western Military Academy 33-12. Highland has beaten Mount Olive 28-18 and lost to Vandavia 18-6.

Last year, the Madison Trojans tied for fifth in the ten-team Midwestern Conference with a 1-4 league mark and a 1-7 season record. The Bulldogs tied with Roxana for winning two of five league games and five out of nine for the season.

Madison has won 13 out of 14 games this year, including through the years, having beaten Highland 14-7 last year after losing 12-27 two years ago.

Open Year with Tie

Granite City began with a 13-15 tie against Cahokia and Collinsville also started off with a 13-15 tie against Cahokia.

There is no coast, nor is a purchase required of any boy, parent or sponsor to enter or compete.

All boys planning to take part in the contest are to register on an official form that can be obtained at any participating Ford dealership. B. E. Hehl is the local dealer, at 1837 Madison avenue. Deadline on applying is Friday, Oct. 6.

A parent or legal guardian must countersign the application for it to be considered.

The boys will be six levels of competition—Local, Zone, District, Area, Division and National. Quad-city winners will be determined by the scores achieved at the competition here.

The top six scorers in each zone will be invited to district competition, from where winners will be sent to area competition in 16 National Football League cities.

Winners of 12 divisions—a western and eastern winner in each age group—will vie in national competition at the NFL playoff game Jan. 7, 1968. There will be six national winners—one for each year of age from eight to 12. Any ties at any level will be played off at the time that they occur.

Each boy will compete individually in three categories—punting, passing and kicking (from a tee).

Scoring Procedure

The score will be one point for each foot of distance the ball travels while in the air, minus one point for each foot that the ball lands to the right or left of a center line.

A three or four-step punting approach will be allowed when passing and punting, but a boy must not step over the starting or base line. If he steps over the line the measurement will be made from the last step taken.

No special footwear may be worn for local competition—only ordinary street shoes or sneakers. All boys are required to wear only sneakers in later competition.

Boys 8, 9 and 10 will use a junior size football for the competition and boys 11, 12 and 13 will compete with a regulation football.

Trophies are to be awarded to the top three in each age group here.

Boys not eligible are sons of employees of the Ford Motor Co. and its dealers and NFL officials, teams and their advertising and public relations agencies.

a tie this fall, a scoreless deadlock with Belleville Althoff. Last weekend, GCHS bowed to Belleville East 27-0 and the Kahoks were nosed out 14-12 by Quincy.

The Fighting Warriors have beaten Collinsville 21 times, lost 23 games and tied one. GCHS last won in 1965, by a 40-6 breeze, and was narrowly beaten 13-12 in 1966, when the Kahoks (4-2 and 4-3) were third in the Southwestern Conference and Granite City (1-5 and 2-7) was sixth among the seven squads.

Both the Warrior and Trojan teams are in rebuilding seasons with relatively young and inexperienced teams, although Madison is showing signs of jelling rapidly, aided by the turning of Tided Shippe.

GCHS has yet to mesh fully but has shown flashes of play, such as those of "playmaker" Roger Belche and Ron Laws last weekend.

Gentry Top Ground Gainer

Coached by Frank Prechal, Highland is paced by Halftime Darrell Gentry, its leading ground gainer of 1966. With less of a passing attack this year, the Bulldogs are relying on him even more heavily. He scored the lone TD against Vandavia.

Highland's 15 returning lettermen include five 1966 starters.

Warrior Sophs Score In Last Seconds to Beat Maroons, 6-0

The Granite City high school sophomore football team squeaked past Belleville West 6-0 here Monday night for its second win in two outings.

There was no score until the last 40 seconds of the game when quarterback Dave Evans connected on a ten-yard pass to Timmy Moore for the six Granite City points.

Again Monday, the young Warriors were able to keep the enemy in poor field condition for most of the contest. All 40 boys who dressed for GCHS were able to play.

The theme being stressed by the coaches this year is for the players to have pride in their jobs on the field, whether they are blockers or ball carriers or defenders. Team play rather than individual stars is being urged.

The squad will play at the Collinsville field at 4 p.m. next Monday.

and is expected to be delivered any day, Loman said. Only about two to three weeks will be needed to complete the rink.

The flag pole that once stood at the old post office building on Niedringhaus avenue will be erected this week. The pole was sanded and painted by park workmen.

ers, and the biggest hole left by graduation is at quarterback. An essentially sophomore team from last season is stronger in its junior year.

Collinsville coach Frank Pilot, now in his second year at the helm after four years as assistant coach, regards his team's greatest strength as its overall depth and its defensive play. The "T" formation offense is hampered by lack of an experienced quarterback.

Expects Close Game

Discussing the visit to GCHS, Pilot said the Press-Record, "Both teams have played about equally well so far, and the one that gets the jump on the other early in the game probably will win. We've made a lot of mistakes that we're trying to iron out."

"We try to do an equal amount of running and passing but did too much passing in our last game," he singled out Halfback Irvin Norton for his ability to carry and receive the ball.

GCHS will outweigh its foes 184-175 in the line but Collinsville will have a 177-170 edge in the backfield.

Madison also will have a weight advantage, 182-172, in the line against Highland but will be outmanned 175-161 in the backfield.

Fourth Warrior Harrier Victory A One-Pointer

Cochran, a 10-year-old Harrier's Granite City high school cross-country team brought home its fourth victory in five meets Tuesday afternoon, narrowly beating Collinsville 28-29 at the Cahokia Mounds State Park.

The two-and-one-tenth-mile course was the roughest that the GCHS has raced on so far this year. "We're still finishing in groups, not just one or two runners, and that is what it takes to have a winning squad. The difference between winning and losing was the seven places that we were able to take between second and eleventh," Harmon said. The first five places for each team are counted, but without its sixth and seventh place men GCHS could have lost by a point.

Gary Oxford was the fastest Warrior, running the course in 11:58. Richard Hull finished fourth in 12:09, Mike Welsch sixth in 12:14, Rick Reese seventh in 12:22, Tom Niebur ninth in 12:26, Mike Burris ninth in 12:28 and Ralph Rolsen 11th in 12:40.

Granite City harriers will visit Edwardsville at 4 p.m. today.

Hunters Bag Bear, Moose, Caribou On Alaskan Expedition

Harry Deatherage, 5120 Maryville road, and Walter Gorline, 2500 Washington avenue, are telling tall hunting stories—but have the evidence to prove them—after a three-week trip to Alaska. They killed caribou, moose and bear.

They left on the expedition in early September and traveled 8000 miles, including 1200 miles each way on the Alaskan highway, a gravel road.

"Not being able to hunt close to any public roads, they stopped in Glen Allen and chartered a plane to fly them to a campsite in the Cooper River Basin area."

The guide urged the hunters to travel with a Cessna 180 airplane that flew them to the surrounding lakes. The pilot made several trips to bring back the game as it was shot by the hunters.

An Alaskan law requires that all game be disposed of rather than left behind after hunters obtain their trophies.

Deatherage hunted with a 300 Savage lever action and Gorline with a 300 Weatherbee Magnum.

The guide urged the hunters to have a Magnum with them in case they were attacked by a Grizzly bear.

The hunters reported they saw herds of 40 and 50 caribou along streams and, from the air, herds of caribou estimated to be 200 or more.

They saw about 12 moose daily but only shot the biggest for trophies.

They skinned and cut each animal into sections suitable to be carried in field packs. Each kill weighed more than 100 pounds.

In addition to coffee and "a lot of bacon," the hunters ate tendorloin from the moose and caribou.

UF Money Goes to 20 Agencies Aiding 10,288 Persons

The question most often asked the volunteer workers in United Fund campaigns here is "Where does the money go?"

This year's drive opens next Monday with a goal of $384,000, and M. B. Milonski, general chairman, is calling upon Quad-Cityans to "give your fair share."

Contributions go to 19 welfare, health service and character-building agencies that last year provided direct assistance to 10,288 individuals.

Quotas for 1968 operations of the 19 United Fund agencies were set during the summer, based on budget needs, and the goal is slightly more than 9% above the $384,000 raised in last fall's drive.

Allocations Breakdown

Of the $384,000 total, $155,455 goes for the welfare agencies, $161,550 for character building agencies and $157,274 for the health services agencies. In addition, $36,275 of the goal is for the A-F-C-C-O Community Services and United Fund administration, and $9700 is set up for unpaid pledges.

Breaking down the $155,455 for welfare agencies, Milonski pointed out that $34,500 goes to the Red Cross, $36,500 to Catholic Charities, $25,000 to Co-ordinated Youth Services, $2000 for the Family Service Agency, $1800 for the Fraternal Society of Retired Members, $6000 to the Association of Retarded Children, $6000 to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, $33,480 to the Salvation Army and $5775 to the USO.

Included in the character building agencies are the Boy Scouts with a $33,000 budget; the Girl Scouts with $22,750; Boys' Town of Illinois, $7000; Madison Teen Town, $3297 and the YMCA, $78,800.

Health services agencies are the American Social Health, $774, Arthritis Foundation, $2300, the United Fund Health Services, $7900, and the Visiting Nurse Association, $4300.

"We need your help to meet the goal for the continued services to the community provided by these agencies," Milonski stressed.

Area Firefighters Plan Fire Prevention Programs

Special demonstrations, fire drills and inspections of schools and business establishments will mark the observance of Fire Prevention Week in the Quad-City area by municipal and volunteer fire-fighting units Oct. 8 through 14.

Some form of observance is planned in all cities and fire districts of the area, with every unit scheduling a type of activity in the schools, either as inspections, speaking engagements, demonstrations or fire-prevention movies.

Granite City firemen will conduct fire prevention inspections in the schools and in business establishments throughout the week, according to Fire Chief Earl Fronnaberger. In addition, he said speakers qualified to discuss fire-prevention subjects will be provided for clubs and civic organizations.

At Madison, volunteer firemen will place posters in the

New Poisonous Spider Causing Hazard in State

A new public health hazard from an unusual quarter — a poisonous spider — has arisen in Southern Illinois.

The small brown spider recently has been found to be more poisonous than the Black Widow. Until now, the Black Widow was thought to be the only poisonous spider in North America and it generally stayed away from the northern and midwestern states.

The "Brown Recluse," as it is called, has made its way into Illinois from the south. It is half-inch long and a quarter-inch wide. It has a distinctive violin-shaped marking on its back.

Death in Illinois

The venom from this spider is extremely potent and, if bitten, a person should seek immediate medical attention. Several deaths, including one in Illinois, have been attributed to the bite of a "Brown Recluse."

A large nest of the harmless looking spiders was uncovered beneath a dormitory at a downtown school. The building was evacuated until a team of public health officials could kill them.

In many cases a person may not even know when he has been bitten by this spider. In other instances, some victims have reported mild stings.

However, pain may be felt at the site of the bite two to eight hours later. The pain is often followed by swelling, blistering, or even bleeding and ulceration.

The victim may also complain of violent stomach pain and jaundice.

The bites have been known to cause deep scars that appear like hollowed-out areas on the skin. Some scars are as large as a half dollar.

In severe cases of spider poisoning, hospitalization is recommended.

Precautions Listed

How can you protect yourself?

1. Since the spider gets its name from being shy, avoid dark, out-of-the-way places, such as corners and holes.

2. If you are out camping, check shoes, blankets and other equipment and belongings where the "brown recluse" may hide.

3. If you discover a nest of the spiders, let a professional exterminator get rid of them. You may get bit or spread the insects to other sections of the building.

Press-Record Yule Mail Call Listing Starts Next Week

Response to the Press-Record's second annual "Yule Mail Call" service continues to gather momentum this week as the names and addresses of Quad-City servicemen and women arrive daily in increasing numbers at the newspaper office.

Among more than 75 letters and postal cards received since the project was announced ten days ago was a letter from Mrs. J. E. Presley Jr., 317 East Chain of Rocks road, whose son, S/Sgt. James E. Presley Jr., is serving with the 8th Engineer Battalion in Vietnam.

Mrs. Presley praises the Press-Record's service and comments, "My son gets the Press-Record overseas and has said how much he enjoys reading what is happening in his hometown. I know he will be very happy to hear from anyone who cares to write him."

Sgt. Presley will be one of many local servicemen whose name and address will be published in a series of lists, starting next week. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear, adding the names to their Christmas mailing lists.

It is requested that names and addresses of military personnel, serving at home or overseas, be sent in by letter or post card, or the information brought to the Press-Record office, 1915 Delmar avenue. Those submitting names also are asked to identify themselves in event verification of complex addresses is necessary.

Relatives, friends, church and service groups, former employers and other individuals are invited to provide the serviceman or woman's name. To avoid duplication, all those submitted will be compiled and reviewed.

Early publication is essential to guarantee delivery prior to the Christmas holidays. Deadline dates for overseas and mailing to bases in the U. S. will be announced as soon as the information is released by postal authorities.

To ensure proper delivery, it is important to accurately list the serviceman's name, rank, serial number, address and APO and FPO when applicable.

Lutheran 450th Year Film Program Sunday

In observance of the 450th Reformation anniversary, a film festival is being sponsored by the four Lutheran churches in Granite City. The festival will begin with "Parable," which will be shown this Sunday, Oct. 1, at 7 p.m. at Concordia Lutheran Church, 23rd street and Grand avenue.

"Parable" was introduced at the Protestant pavilion at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair. It is an allegory, depicting a mime or clown as he takes the place of circus members in difficult or dangerous tasks, taking upon himself their toll of degradation and suffering and finally dying for his actions.

In his life and death, he brings about redemption and change. Of those who viewed it at the fair, most found it moving and some found it "contending."

A discussion period will follow the showing here, enabling reactions to the film to be expressed and discussed.

The public is being invited.

Business on Arch Train is Above Budget Estimate

Members of the board of commissioners of the Bi-State Development Agency were informed yesterday that business on the passenger transportation unit in the north leg of the Gateway Arch is running ahead of budget estimates and is expected to make up financially for 20 days operation lost during July.

Col. R. E. Smyser, executive director of the agency, reported yesterday in a regular meeting of the board that if the same pattern of operation continues, as experienced in August and September without further shutdowns for maintenance or other purposes, "the agency should have no difficulty in meeting its total indenture on Dec. 31." Continued operation at the present rate should provide income for the first quarter of operation "right on the budget estimate" or slightly ahead, Col. Smyser said.

He noted that the better-than-expected revenue resulted despite a number of shutdowns since the train service was inaugurated by the agency for maintenance checks or because of minor operational difficulties. Reason for the situation was attributed to the fact that the train is carrying more adult passengers than had been anticipated by consulting engineers when they drew up their income projections.

Adult Patronage High

Col. Smyser said that while budgeted income had been based on the presumption that more children than adults would ride the Arch train at a smaller fare, the unit during most of August carried three adults to every one child, and during the 20 days the train was in operation in September carried six adults to one child. The agency's experimental plan for operation of a shuttle bus from downtown St. Louis hotels, restaurants and department stores to the Arch has not worked out as well. The board's Transit Operations committee reported the service was begun Aug. 5 for a 60-day trial period, and that during the time it has been in operation "the riding demand has not been enough to cover the driver's wages."

The commissioners, on recommendation of the committee, voted to discontinue the service as of Oct. 8, end of the trial period, until other riverfront projects are completed.

A report on progress in installation of the train in the south leg of the Arch was presented to the commissioners, and it was said the work should be completed for beginning operation by Jan. 15.

Transit Report

The Bi-State Transit System reported a deficit of $11,604 in overall operation of the metropolitan area bus system during the month of August. Revenue amounted to $1,976,741, or $54,299 below the August budget projection. Operating costs amounted to $1,716,217, or $34,783 less than that anticipated.

This left net operating revenue of $260,524 to be applied to trust indenture requirements of $275,500, creating the $11,604 deficit.

Plans and engineering for new runway construction at Bi-State Parks Airport are under way, Col. Smyser reported. The work will be financed with federal funds including a grant of $10,200 which already has been awarded. Operations are pick-

Grand Jury Hears 4 In Harder Murder Case

The Madison county grand jury heard at least four witnesses in connection with the Harder murder case as it opened a new session Monday at Edwardsville.

They were Mr. Norma Harder of Chouteau Slough road, the widow of William Harder, 31, who was shot in the stomach Sept. 9 near his home. Deputy Sheriff Demos Nicholas, Delbert Clemens, and a neighbor who reported hearing three shots fired.

Charged with murder are London Ray "Pop" Fisher, 35, and Eugene D. "Moose" Carroll, 33, both of Granite City. Prior to the hearing, Chief Circuit Judge James O. Monroe denied a motion by defense Atty. John Gutsch of Granite City to examine the jurors to assure that they held no prejudice in the case. State Atty. John Scroggins maintained that petit jury standards do not apply to grand juries.

The grand jury is expected to make its final report next Thursday.

ing up sharply at the airport, with a total of 72 planes based there. Col. Smyser said the Bi-State Agency expects eventually to build a new east-west runway of 5500 feet at the airport.

The agency's liaison committee will renew efforts to obtain Missouri legislation appropriating a $200,000 subsidy for the Bi-State Transit System, which requested $400,000 from Illinois and $600,000 on a pro-rated basis—from Missouri early this year.

Illinois legislators approved its bill, but made allotment of the $400,000 contingent upon Missouri's approval of the $600,000 subsidy from that state. Missouri's bill was lost in the General Assembly.

GC Kiwanians Honor Young Ball Players

Young baseball players, who are members of the team sponsored by the Granite City Kiwanis Club, were entertained by their sponsors Monday evening for a dinner and program at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Featured speaker was Harold Brown, Granite City park district superintendent.

The 12-and-13-year-old youngsters, who compete in the Smokey Padgett league's Blue division, were accompanied by their team manager, Jerry Duncan, and co-manager, Howard Eberthorn.

Entertainment also spotlighted a baseball film, "The Name of the Game is Fun," filmed during the American League's training season. The movie also drew attention to the number of "gimmicks" now used to attract fans to ball parks.

Brown reviewed the park district's baseball program and expressed appreciation to club members for their support as a team. He paid high praise to team managers and coaches who volunteer their time and efforts toward the fundamentals of baseball.

"Without these men," the park official said, "the program could not continue to function and grow each season."

Brown pointed out the boys present had shown a high degree of competitive spirit during the past season and displayed a fine sense of sportsmanship. "Both qualities are invaluable in later life," he concluded.

Brown was introduced by Paul M. Worthen, program chairman. Also attending as a guest speaker was Melvin Gillie, Kiwanis chairman, conducted a short business meeting, with final plans for the Kiwanis fund-raising "Peanut Day Sale," Friday and Saturday.

James Schrier, project chairman, assigned workers to various areas of the community, where they will be stationed during the fund-raising campaign. The young baseball players will join club members in selling peanuts, it was announced.

grade school, with all students in the district then attending the Venice building. Leatherman reported. He said there would be enough room due to the fact that the Venice building was being used for a school.

Two classrooms could be added inexpensively, being erected above a Venice grade school wing designed for such an addition.

Highway Acquisition
An estimated 65 pupils registered for the Venice grade school, which is expected to move from the district, possibly by March 1, due to acquisition of right-of-way for Federal Aid Route 181.

With the prospect that all students could be absorbed in the Venice grade and high school complex, the Venice building, Broadway, with some additional high school facilities provided, the board is hesitant to proceed with pupil transfers in mid-semester. Leatherman related.

He estimated that with the loss of 65 students, there would still be 160 at Lincoln grade school, which would be absorbed at Venice grade school, and the two-room addition would avoid overcrowding.

While there is no assurance that there would be bidders for the Lincoln structure, it is possible for conversion to an office building; partitions separating classrooms could be removed without impairing the strength of supporting walls, Leatherman said.

There would be a $50,000 annual saving in utility and custodial costs if the school district no longer occupied the Lincoln building, which has a capacity of 400 to 500 pupils.

Single High School
Lincoln grade school was built in 1954, while the Venice grade school next designated as Lincoln high school. The latter school subsequently was closed, and the Venice grade school has a capacity of 400 to 500 pupils.

Municipal League Backs Referenda

The Illinois Municipal League, convened in its 54th annual convention at Springfield, voted Tuesday to favor two referendum proposals in next year's general election.

The proposals are a bond issue to fund a new police department and a call for a Constitutional Convention. The proposals were endorsed unanimously by members of approximately 150 Illinois cities.

The bond proposal is the league's four-day session. Both the bond proposal and convention call will be voted upon in the November election of 1968.

A constitutional convention was called in 1920, but the proposal adopted by the convention was defeated by the voters in a referendum election. In 1944, voters rejected a proposal to call another convention.

The bond issue, if approved, would provide funds for a state-directed drive against air and water pollution, with the money divided among municipalities and state agencies.

The league also adopted a resolution fixing Peoria as the site of the 1968 convention and Chicago as the site of the 1969 gathering.

MORE ABOUT Firms Urge

Two main elements in a control program. One element consists of the goals which the area concerned can achieve if the program is properly developed.

The other element—and the heart of any control program—is the system of standards which must be met as soon as the program takes effect.

In my experience, the real value of standards lies in their serving as steps which can lead toward the ultimate realization of the goals of a control program.

Standards are meant to be enforced immediately or in the near future. Therefore, standards should be practical and economically feasible at the present time in the light of the available resources, equipment and sources of energy.

Resuming his remarks, Hoelscher said, "Supporters of the current Air Pollution Control Act admitted that the requirements of the ordinance were goals, not standards, because they provided an unusual and sweeping variance or exemption procedure."

The ordinance as it presently exists says in effect that while the city council has the right to ratify and approve the requirements, the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board will have the final say in determining whether or not they are to be enforced.

Mayor Tucker explained this opposition to over-reliance on the city council as a tool of air pollution control when he said: "In my experience in government, variances from ordinance are a constant problem. The ordinance is so written as to require the wholesale use of variances. This places a heavy burden of responsibility on the control board, which must constantly weigh the merits of various requests as to ability or lack of ability to meet the goals."

Tucker Opposes Exceptions
With variances, it is difficult for a company appropriating funds for pollution abatement to get a city ordinance answer to a reasonable question—Exactly what are we expected to do at this time? The answer is, "We are expected to do those which apply equally to all people they affect. And, if the ordinance is so written as to require the wholesale use of variances, it is difficult to get a city ordinance answer to a reasonable question—Exactly what are we expected to do at this time? The answer is, "We are expected to do those which apply equally to all people they affect. Clerk Contract Talks Continue

Representatives of Retail Store Employees Local 435 and the Associated Retailers are meeting today in contract negotiations for about 250 clerks and Quad-City soft goods retail stores.

The present two-year contract expires Sunday. Heading the negotiating teams are Miss Betty Sheppard, business agent for the union, and Mauri Rich for the retailers.

Today's meeting is being held at the union office, 1415 Niedringhaus avenue.

Time-Sharing Computer Utilized by SIU-SW

One doesn't often think of the adjective "exciting" in connection with hardware, but this is the term used by the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern business division faculty to describe the possibilities of the time-sharing terminal at the campus.

Brought to the campus on a trail basis this summer by the business division for a series of faculty seminars to encourage use of both computer capability and techniques of quantitative analysis, the terminal is connected to the Pillsbury Call-A-Computer time-sharing center in Minneapolis.

Problems fed into the terminal go by telephone to Minneapolis for solution. The terminal is connected through a telephone tie-line to a terminal in St. Louis which, in turn, is connected to the General Electric Computer Center in Chicago.

"We made the arrangement with Pillsbury," said Kenneth Myers, dean of the Business Division, "because one of our visiting speakers at the seminars, Prof. Gary Dickson, wished to demonstrate a number of the programs which he had found particularly useful in graduate work at the University of Minnesota."

As many as 30 terminals may be connected to a single computer under the present time-sharing system. Even if all 30 are in use there is immediate response to any one of the terminals, so the processing of information into the computer saves time.

Among the things made available was the Standard and Poor's tape record of the financial history of some 900 leading firms, together with a historical record of investments of stocks of these firms on the New York Stock Exchange. "As a result of our favorable experience with the time-sharing terminal," Myers said, "we have arranged for its continued use during the coming year."

Smart Sewing Series Starts on Channel 9

Correct sewing habits can turn wishful thinking into a wardrobe full of high fashion at low cost.

Each Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on Channel 9, station Kctv-TV, presents the first of a new series of ten half-hour "Smart Sewing" programs, each highlighting the step-by-step procedure of cutting, fitting, and sewing a different, up-to-date basic garment, from a simple blouse to a pantsuit. The program will be repeated on Mondays at 8:15 p.m.

Stylist and sewing specialist Martha Van Lennep, hostess for these programs, has been active in the home-sewing field from Los Angeles, where she worked at the Chouinard Institute of Art, to the Modern School of Fashion Design in Boston.

Mrs. Van Lennep feels that the first and perhaps most important rule in sewing is the careful reading of all instructions in the pattern envelope. "Hours of time can be saved," she says, "simply by first spending a little time studying each step of construction in the patterns guide."

During the course of the ten lessons, viewers will be able to see at first hand the basic techniques of handling such high-fashion fabrics as crepe and knits. They will be given the latest fashion and fabric news and, under Mrs. Van Lennep's expert guidance, will learn tricks for handling a curved seam, setting in a sleeve, and lining a garment. And they'll even be piloted through the mysteries of a man's sport shirt and pattern string for children.

Distribution of "Smart Sewing" is made possible by a grant to National Educational Television from the National Division of McCall's.

Kctv is providing a 150-page sewing manual for use with the series at no cost to Channel 9's contributing members.

Citizen Group Proposed

Chief Veizer at Meeting On Respect for Law, Order

Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer was among a delegation of five local area persons who attended a state-wide conference on "Respect for Law and Order" held Tuesday in Peoria, sponsored by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Accompanying Chief Veizer were C. A. MacMillan of the Coordinated Youth Services office; Steve Jones, assistant principal at Granite City high school; Bruce Gresham, county probation officer, and William Johnson, Collinsville magistrate.

Chief Veizer said a proposal for formation of local committee on respect for law and order was proposed and is to be considered.

16, 20 Members
It was recommended at the conference that such a local committee be made up of key members of the business community numbering 16 to 20 members with subcommittees for legislation, youth, business and law enforcement.

Consultations are recommended with police departments, city councils, veterans organizations, Parent-Teacher Associations, the YMCA, and other groups, youth organizations, the Tri-City Bar Association, news media, school superintendents and principals and with representatives of county, state and federal governments.

Relating to the police department, the committee would make a comparison study of the numerical strength, training, salaries, recruitment and equipment and support revisions where indicated, and would also examine the police department budget.

Establishment of a "community-police program" would be taken under consideration, along with cooperative support of police-juvenile programs.

The local committee also could ascertain the degree of student disrespect for law and order and determine potential causes of trouble with possible steps to correct the trouble through in-school programs.

Arrangements could be made for the committee members to set up a speaker bureau for school and general programs, along with making available for school use visual aids dealing with respect for law and order.

A word of caution given at the conference was that such a committee make public its goals and not try to be "crime-busters, a police review board or a crime commission."

11 SIU Student Nurses Training at Hospital

Local Artist's Exhibit Of Paintings at Bank

During the next two weeks, Quad-Cityans are invited to view four paintings by Charles Blaylock, a local commercial artist, whose works are being exhibited at the American National bank on Fehling road.

Painted in acrylics, the collection includes a large study of the Granite City Steel Company's blast furnace plant on Edwardsville road, a panoramic view of the St. Louis Gateway Arch, a floral scene and a new canvas by the artist entitled "Road to Rome."

Blaylock, 30, is a staff artist for Universal Match Co., Ferguson, Mo., where he uses his talents to create the finished work and hand lettering on match book covers. Several of his paintings have been exhibited at area restaurants.

Last year, the artist presented one of his most popular works, "A Clown's Head," to the pediatric ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital, in gratitude for the care and attention given his young son during his confinement there.

Blaylock, who resides at 5006 Lakeside drive, is a member of the Town and Country Artists Guild, formerly the Caseyville Artists Guild.

Student nurses assigned to St. Elizabeth Hospital include Jeanne Christopher, Jo Ann Greble, Sheryl Deal, Judy Janak, Gail Boetoch, Laurie Spidich, Jo Ann Yates, Alice Delahanty, Sandi Macknick, Marty Buck and Virginia Clark.

Chamber Speaker Oct. 12 Is 'Mr. GOP' in Washington

Abraham Lincoln will probably always be the best known Illinois Republican, but U. S. Senate Minority Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen also is certain to go down in history as one of the state's and nation's best known and most influential Republicans.

Because of this, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce is particularly pleased to have received confirmation of Dirksen's appearance here at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12.

Sen. Dirksen is having one of his busiest years ever but has been able to include in his schedule a visit to the Quad-Cities for the annual Chamber installation banquet. His talk will highlight the program for a gathering of several hundred persons in the Granite City high school cafeteria building.

The senator, known for his mellifluous oratorical style as well as for his parliamentary skill and sagacious governmental decisions, is shown in an accompanying drawing with a bust of President Lincoln.

Born 31 years after Lincoln's assassination, Sen. Dirksen never knew the early U. S. chief executive but has been a confidant of many presidents in recent years. Whenever an important national or world issue is in the balance, he is among those summoned to the White House to voice his views.

Named for President Sen. Dirksen was born Jan. 4, 1896, at Pekin in the heart of the state. His middle name, McKinley, derives from the martyred president.

He attended Pekin high school and the University of Minnesota Law School and married Louella Carver of Pekin. They have one daughter, Mrs. Howard H. Baker Jr.

He began his military service in world war I as an enlisted man but rose from private to corporal and sergeant and then was commissioned in the field as a second lieutenant. He served 17 months overseas with the 328th Field Artillery, the 19th Balloon Co. and the Second Section of the General Staff.

Back in civilian life he became a dredging and drainage contractor, engaged the manufacture of electric washing machines and was co-proprietor of a wholesale bakery and a director of the American Savings and Loan Association at Pekin. He is an attorney, a member of the Illinois Bar Association and the District of Columbia Bar Association.

He entered public service when elected as commissioner of Finance in the city of Pekin in 1926 and served four years. As a candidate for Congress in 1930 he was defeated in the primary.

In 1932 he was nominated and elected to Congress, serving eight consecutive terms from the 73rd through the 80th Congress. He retired voluntarily from Congress on Jan. 3, 1949.

In 1950 he was prevailed upon to become a candidate for the U. S. Senate and was elected on Nov. 7, 1950, over Scott W. Lucas, the Senate majority leader. He was re-nominated for the Senate in April 1956, re-elected Nov. 6, 1956, for a second term and re-elected to a third Senate term on Nov. 6, 1962.

Sen. Dirksen's party service has included membership on the Republican National Convention in 1940, 1944, 1948, 1952, 1956 and 1960.

In 1944 he was formally endorsed by more than forty members of the House of Representatives for a place on the Republican national ticket.

He served as chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee from 1951 through 1954 and minority whip for the 85th Congress, and was selected as minority leader for the 86th, 87th and 88th Congresses.

Many Committee Posts

His committee service in Congress has included the Committees on Territories, Immigration and Naturalization, Banking and Currency, Select Committee to Reorganize the Executive Branch, Select Committee on Real Estate Bondholders Reorganization, Select Committee on Air Safety, Joint Committee on Appropriations, and Committee on Legislative Budget.

During the 80th Congress, he served as chairman of the Committee on the District of Columbia and as chairman of the Subcommittee on Agricultural Appropriations. He also was designated as chairman of a Joint House Committee to survey conditions in Europe.

He is presently serving on the Judiciary and Finance Committees of the Senate. In addition, he is chairman of the Subcommittee on Federal Charters, Holidays and Celebrations of the Senate Judiciary Committee; a member of the Special Committee on Aging, and a member of the Republican Policy Committee.

Among other organizations, Sen. Dirksen is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Masons, Shrine, Elks, Eagles, Oddfellows, Moose, Izank Walton League, Illinois Bar Association and American Bar Association.

In the last few years, he has been honored with honorary degrees from a number of institutions. He received the degree of doctor of laws from Hope College at Holland, Mich.; Bradley University at Peoria, Ill.; De Paul University at Chicago, Ill.; and Lincoln Memorial University at Harrogate, Tenn.

trolmen Kelly Hodges and Glenn Wright. Hodges fired a warning shot in the air and the man fell to the ground. He then got up and walked toward the officers.

Bentz was identified later at the police station by Rev. Baumann and Jenkins.

Bentz has been residing here for the past seven months, apparently without the permission of his parole officer, police said. He was employed at a local plant.

Police said that last week Bentz purchased a used car from a local agency but drove away in the wrong car. After the agency reclaimed the auto, Bentz complained that he needed some tools he had left in the auto as he had some work to do during the weekend. He was carrying a case of tools when arrested.

Entry to the church building was gained by removing a pane of glass from a rear window. Rev. Baumann said $8 was missing from a drawer and that some change was left.

Enrollment at ISU 11,040, Up 1341

Illinois State University's enrollment for the fall semester passed both the 10,000 and 11,000 marks in the same year, according to a final report issued today by Dr. Howard Ivens, director of admission and records, at ISU, Normal.

The final tally, following close of late registration, totals 11,040, an increase of 1341 over the 9699 enrolled last fall.

During the week of late registration, which ended Saturday, a total of 150 students entered the university, adding to the 10,844 who enrolled the previous week. There were 54 students who withdrew for various reasons, leaving the 11,040 as of Tuesday.

The increase in enrollment came at the sophomore, junior, senior and graduate levels, while the number of freshmen remained about the same as a year ago because of ISU's early enrollment curtailment. ISU is now projecting between 20,000 and 25,000 students by 1975.

Coolidge PTA Hears Principal

Raymond Jones, principal of Coolidge Junior High school, was the guest speaker at the first PTA meeting of the new school year Monday evening and gave details of the newly-instituted "Multi-phase or continuous program."

This program is being used for the seventh grade only and allows the student to progress as far as his ability will allow. The program has four phases, the fourth one deals with the above average student, third phase with the average, second phase with the below average and the first phase with the remedial student.

The most important part of the program, he said, is that it allows the student to move from the lowest phase to the top in the nine-week grading period, providing he is progressing that rapidly. At the close of the nine weeks, a statement will be mailed to the parents advising them of the progress made by his child.

The program will continue next year into the eighth grade to assist the students now taking part in the program.

Mrs. Kathleen Tadlock opened the meeting with the PTA prayer and flag pledge and installed the new officers for the 1967-68 year.

C. of C. to Publish Booklet, 'The Tri-Cities Area Story'

"The Tri-Cities Area Story" in words and pictures will be published in a booklet form by the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, president Howard W. Kaseberg announced this week.

"We're going to put a new sales tool in the hands of the Chamber," Kaseberg said. "This book will tell the whole story of the Tri-Cities area and will give us a chance to put our best foot forward in attracting new industry and residents." "Cost of publishing the book will be underwritten by advertising space purchased by members of the area business community," Kaseberg explained. The decision to publish a book on the Tri-Cities area was reached by the board of directors of the Chamber when this program was presented to the board for approval. Windsor Publications, who specializes in preparing books on cities in the United States will publish the book. In the next few days a team from Windsor will begin shooting pictures and gathering facts in the area. They will cover schools, churches, the history, government, industry, residential areas and the commerce of the Tri-Cities area. The finished publication is expected in January.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Sept. 28, 1967

Secretary of State To Use Computer

Faster access to data concerning motor vehicles and substantial savings will be the principal advantages of a computerized data processing system to be installed in the Secretary of State's office at Springfield.

Paul Powell, secretary of state, said the plan for a new centralized information system call for using one of the most powerful electronic computers in existence. Installation will start next year and the system will be completely operational about 1970 to 1972, Powell said.

Faster access to motor vehicle and driver information will materially assist law enforcement officials in the apprehension of suspect individuals and vehicles, he pointed out. Proper identification of a car believed to be stolen, which now takes about 45 minutes, can be accomplished in two minutes under the computer system, Powell added.

This will be possible because all the information involving license plate numbers and other registration data will be stored in the computer's memory bank at the time the plates and registration are issued, rather than waiting until it can be prepared in printed form or filed manually.

One of the savings to be realized, Powell said, will be elimination of the need to print the "wheel book," the present multiple-volume listing of license numbers, car owners and other information, which currently costs about $520,000 a year.

In addition the base information can be used for compiling lists needed for distribution of motor fuel taxes to counties. The distribution of records to county clerks for assessment purposes, handling of parking and moving traffic law violations and re-issuance of license plates.

Hold 2 Area Men In Holdup Try, Fatal Shooting

Two Quad-City men were held in the city jail at East St. Louis today under charges growing out of the attempted robbery of an East St. Louis tavern last Sunday night, in which a Madison man was shot fatally and three persons were wounded.

Police said charges of attempted robbery and aggravated battery have been placed against Willie Petty, 26, of 911 Webster street, Madison, and Floyd Jenkins, 24, of 1215 Calhoun street, Venice. Both were picked up by Madison and Venice police at their homes early Monday morning a few hours after the unsuccessful holdup attempt that ended in a gun battle.

Abraham Pickett, 25, of 910 Webster street, Madison, was shot during the gunfire and died inside the door of St. Elizabeth Hospital where he sought help about 20 minutes after the shooting. Abraham's brother, Henry Pickett, 23, of the Webster street address, was wounded in the chest and right arm, also is in serious condition in Christian Welfare Hospital at East St. Louis where police have been unable to question her because of her condition. A customer in the tavern, James Fullenwider, 25, of St. Louis, was grazed by a bullet during the shooting. He was released from the hospital after treatment.

Witnesses said a man, later identified as Henry Pickett, entered the tavern and ordered a bottle of whisky. Moments later two other men entered through a side door and ordered Mrs. Komeshak to a rear storage room.

East St. Louis detectives said they are not certain if she forced Mrs. Komeshak to a rear storage room. East St. Louis detectives said they are not certain if she picked up a gun from the bar or wrested a revolver from one of the holdup men, since they have been unable to talk to her. In any case, shots were fired as the men forced Mrs. Komeshak into the rear room.

Dies at Hospital Door Abraham collapsed to the floor and the other two men dragged him out, leaving a .38 caliber revolver and a .22 caliber rifle behind. Henry and Abraham Pickett later were dropped off at the rear of St. Elizabeth Hospital where Henry Pickett made his way to the emergency room. Abraham Pickett was found dead ten minutes later inside the rear hospital entrance.

Police said Henry Pickett denied knowing of any robbery plan. He said he got out of the car to buy a bottle of whisky and did not know the others planned a robbery. A hold order has been placed against him at the hospital.

Detectives at East St. Louis said they released Maurice Williams, 23, of 154 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, who also was taken into custody by police early Monday morning as owner of the car used in the robbery attempt. Williams, officers said, established that he had loaned the car to one of the other men and was not involved in the holdup effort.

INTERNATIONAL THEME FOR PANTRY SHOWER

A pantry shower for the nuns of St. Elizabeth Catholic school was given Tuesday evening by members of the Altar Society preceding their meeting in the school cafeteria, with 92 members attending.

Mrs. Josephine Uram and Mrs. Stephanie Sedej, chairman and co-chairman of the schools liaison committee, prepared for the shower, using an international theme. Table centerpieces were foreign and in native costumes. Posters around the room contained travel pictures of all countries. The hostesses in their opening welcome spoke on Granite City as a "melting pot" of many nations. To carry out the theme, they obtained the nationalities of the priest, nuns and lay teachers and presented each with a delicacy denoting the appropriate nationality.

Two new members, Mrs. Pat Weathers, and Mrs. Diester were introduced and added to the membership list. Guests were Mrs. Nellie Hoff and Betty Boyer and Mrs. Dolly Gonzalez.

The evening's prize went to Mrs. Ann Falgout and Sister Charlene's room was honored for having the largest number of mothers present.

Room mothers were chosen. Each member brought a "white elephant" gift and a prize for games following the meeting.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 24 in the school cafeteria.

CUB PACK 22 HOLDS FIRST FALL MEETING

Cub Pack 22 of Frohardt school held its first meeting of the new school year Tuesday evening at the school. The opening flag ceremony was given by Den Thre under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Brusatti. The den led the group in the song, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Cubmaster Earl Buenger welcomed the former members and parents as well as new recruits.

He then introduced the new committee: William Krause, chairman; Mrs. Joyce Kimball, secretary-treasurer; Alex Tarpo, Webelos trainer; Martin Roth and O'Dell Miller, mittmen; Mrs. Brusatti, Mrs. Addie Lee and Mrs. Marcia Buenger, Den leaders; and Mrs. Josephine Uram and Mrs. Sandy Meyer, assistant den mothers.

Arrests Planned On Delinquent Parking Tickets

Warrants are to be obtained next week for the arrest of motorists holding about 350 delinquent parking tickets. Lt. William Condis, head of the traffic division, has announced.

All have received at least one, and most have been mailed two official notices to come to the station and pay the routine fines of $2 for parking meter and $5 for other parking violations, but the notices have been ignored, Lt. Condis said.

Those who previously appeared in court on warrants were fined $15, including costs, on each ticket. The traffic chief said persons who appear before a warrant is served will be subject only to the $2 and $5 fines. The 350 tickets were issued as far back as mid-1966, he said.

Meanwhile, notices are now being mailed to holders of another 500 delinquent tickets, and second notices no longer will be mailed, Lt. Condis emphasized. He said the department has a backlog of about 250 delinquent tickets.

Corn Starch is Ingredient of Many Manufactured Items

The current harvesting of some thousands of bushels of corn across America now under way will produce not only feed for livestock and food for man, but also will aid in producing hundreds of different items for use in medicine and industry, according to the Corn Refiners Association, Inc., of which Granite City's Union Starch & Refining Co. is a member.

Major product of the corn kernel is corn starch, and the products in which corn starch is used range from food powders through surgical dressings to pills. Robert C. Liebow, president of the refiners association, pointed out that 93% of the total United States production of corn starch is produced by the corn refining industry.

Starch, used as a coating material on dehydrated foods, has gone along on recent space flights. It also is used to stabilize hydration of food. A special starch powder that can be absorbed by the body, is widely used in operating gloves for surgeons. Another type of starch powder is used for dusting tires, tubes and other rubber products.

The product lends itself to many other uses. Starch is treated with nitric acid for use in explosives to provide uniformity of force in explosive mixtures. It is used as a binder for active ingredients in the manufacture of all types of drugs in pill form. There is no substitute for starch in this particular function.

Used in Wallboard
It is used in wallboard for buildings, as an adhesive for gluing veneer plies in the manufacture of plywood, and in the manufacture of gypsum board.

Millions of pounds of starch are used each year in the manufacture of paper and allied products such as cardboard and corrugated paperboard. Addition of starch to pulp adds strength to the paper and increases its resistance to curling, folding and tearing, and keeps ink from spreading.

It also is used as a separation agent in the refining of molybdenum ore, copper ore and magnesium ore and in aluminum extraction.

The textile industry, cotton and synthetic, consumes many millions of pounds of starch each year. Warp threads, those running lengthwise through the fabric, are sized by passing the yarn through a hot bath consisting of cooked corn starch. This enables the yarn to withstand the mechanical weaving process.

Starch also is used as a dilutant and adhesive in insecticides.

A benefit performance of the hit show, "Carnival," will be presented here on Nov. 25 to aid the St. Elizabeth Hospital modernization-expansion project.

Sponsorship of the performance at Granite City high school auditorium on the Saturday evening will be by the Hospital Auxiliary and the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for the presentation here were made by Mrs. Mildred B. Hoelscher, director and choreographer, who said about half of the cast is from the Quad-Cities and the others from the Collinsville area.

The group, known as The Masquers, holds its rehearsals in the Masquers Hall, 209 East Main street, Collinsville, and two performances of the musical show will be given at Collinsville's Webster school Nov. 17 and 18.

The Masquers also plan two other productions during the 1967-68 season. Mrs. Hoelscher is being aided for the staging of "Carnival" by Miss Diane Nocheff, dance director; Earl Parsons, publicity; Mrs. Lula Mills and Rogers Davis, costumes; Jim Swank, house chairman, and Jack Butterfield, music director for the chorus and orchestra.

Mrs. Bergfield said the date the Hospital Auxiliary members will begin selling tickets for the Nov. 25 performance will be announced in the near future.

Red Cross Asks to be Told of Ditty Bag Work

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive director of the Tri-City American Red Cross chapter, asks all persons making "Ditty Bags" for servicemen in Vietnam to notify the Red Cross of the immediately, as an approximate quota figure is required to arrange shipping details overseas.

Persons calling the office, at GL 2-7184, will be mailed labels that must be sewn into each ditty bag, stating "Not to be Sold," the director said. Also supplied are cards, which list the name of the organization providing the bags for distribution through the Red Cross, who made it and furnished its contents.

Ditty bags must be shipped by Oct. 14, to ensure servicemen receiving them by Christmas, Mrs. Overbeck said. She pointed out that persons unable to complete the bags in time for the mid-October deadline, should continue with the project for shipping at a later date.

"Red Cross personnel overseas report the bags are very useful at any time during the year and are utilized by wounded GIs while being evacuated, or to have on a hospital bed," the local director said.

Engelbert observed his 50th anniversary locally with a Jubilee Mass at St. Mary's church last June 4. He was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church on Feb. 3, 1956, when Bishop James A. Griffin of Springfield, invited the Franciscan Fathers of Sacred Heart to assume charge of the parish. Father Engelbert was born in Silesia, Germany, now a part of Poland. October Draft Call Is for 4 Local Men

The Quad-City area's draft quota for October will be four men who are to report for armed forces service on Oct. 20. This month, eight men were called for service.

There is no call for pre-induction physical examinations in October, and the one scheduled for this month was cancelled, due to a lack of funds.

Four Men Attempt To Abduct Venice Boy

Four men who picked up a three-year-old boy in their car and started to drive away with him about 6 p.m. Monday apparently changed their mind and pushed the child out of the car when he began screaming, according to a report to Venice police.

Mrs. Phyllis Catterson, 1256 Oriole street, mother of Terry Catterson, told Venice officers the boy was playing with a brother and a sister near the alley between Oriole and Robin streets when the incident occurred.

She said the car containing the four men slowed as it passed the alley and one of the men put the boy in the car, which began driving away.

Larry Catterson, seven, and his sister, Caroline, 13, began yelling at the men to let their brother out of the car. At the same time Terry began screaming.

The car stopped and the boy was pushed out of the car which then left at a high rate of speed and turning the stop sign at Klein street. Police said they have a description of the car and are seeking the men.

DOES YOUR HEALTH INSURANCE KNOW WHAT YOUR AUTO INSURANCE IS DOING?

There's a lot of difference between your health insurance and your auto insurance. . . . Neither of them are much like your fire or life insurance.

Except they all come out of your family's budget. And they all protect the same family.

Shouldn't they all come from the same insurance agent?

Student Vocational Work Program Studied in Area

Establishment of a Cooperative Work Training program in the Quad-City area under the state's Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation Office would provide work experience to help students make the transition from school to work and would substantially curb high school dropouts, according to details of the program under discussion here.

Two representatives of the state BVERO met in Granite City last week with the industrial relations committee of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities to discuss details of the plan which, they pointed out, would result in extensive benefits to participating students, employers and the community.

H. M. Strubinger and George S. Jefferson, state BVERO representatives, conferred with John Newlin of Nestle, Inc., Jean Christy of Granite City Steel Co., John Walker and Clarence Vogel of Lackde Steel Co., C. E. Blankenship of A. O. Smith, Inc., and M. A. Wittverongel of the Granite City school district vocational education department.

Accident Prevention Tips for Offices

Office safety is everyone's concern: the employee as well as the boss. Both benefit by it. Unsafe conditions are hazardous to all.

Often, safety is simply a matter of a little thoughtfulness. The Quad-City Safety Council prints out, Drawers and file cabinets, for example, should be kept closed when not in use. A drawer left open carelessly may cause painful bruises or serious injuries.

To prevent office injuries, the Council also recommends the following safety rules:

Avoid falls by mopping up spilled liquids, and picking up paper clips, pencils, papers, etc., that are on the floor.

Avoid cuts and scratches by reporting for repair metal burrs and splinters of wood, cracked glass desk and table tops.

Use proper lifting techniques by using handles to open and close doors and drawers. Avoid strains and sprains by proper lifting. Ask for assistance for moving heavy, cumbersome objects.

Either we're charging too little, or everyone else is charging too much.

Wambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import. At a price very close to the leading import, the American saves six people instead of four. It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood. Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas. Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy. Rebel. America's most underrated car. The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America. It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for. The Rebel—Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be. Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much. Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment. Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another. We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars. The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines. The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops.

The principal change is in the option of paying a $2 citation fee or appealing to the parking and traffic appeals committee. Last year the $2 fee was paid first before one could appeal within the allowable 72 hours.

No parking has been set for the "hairpin" of the roadway because of an abuse of a previous 30-minute parking restriction.

Parents Urged to Join U. of I. Associations

Mrs. Lucille Caban, Madison county chairman and a director of the executive board of the University of Illinois Mothers Association, is urging parents of U. of I. students to join the Mothers and Dads Associations.

Dues for joint membership in both associations is $12 for four years, $7.50 for two years (transfer students only) and $5 for one year.

Membership in either is $7.50 for four years, $5 for two years, $3 for one year and $25 for a life membership.

She said the dues are used in numerous projects and activities. Members receive publications from the two associations to aid parents in understanding the changes and progress of student academic and social development.

Both associations sponsor scholarships. The Dads Association organizes campus parents meetings during the summer. First semester freshmen who achieve straight A academic averages are honored by a book award to the home high school by the Mothers Association.

At a recent meeting of the Mothers Association board, attended by Mrs. Caban at Champaign, it was announced that U. of I. Dads Day will be Nov. 3-5 and Mothers Day May 3-5. The fall county chairman conference will be Nov. 17-18 at the Manor house, Allerton Park.

She reported that a centennial gift to the U. of I. by the Mothers Association will be announced later.

She added that centennial plates may be ordered from U. of I. Centennial Plate, Room 130, 610 East John street, Champaign, Ill., 61820, at $7 each plus 50 cents shipping cost.

New Programs, Courses Offered at SIU-SW Campus

By ANDREW WILSON

In an interview with the Press-Record, the deans of five divisions at SIU-SW Campus outlined plans for a variety of new courses and academic programs getting under way with the opening of fall quarter.

In the Education division, acting Dean Dale Wantling discussed the University's plans to give greater emphasis to the connection between learning about education within the University and the actual teaching process going on outside the University. Two programs, one new and the other expanded, are being put into operation.

The first, entitled New Experimental Teacher Education Program (NEXTEP), will bring 25 educators from area public high schools and grade schools to the Southwestern campus on fellowships.

The educators will do research and study at the University for four days a week and continue their regular teaching one day. The program is subsidized by a $192,500 federal grant and will last the full school year.

Overall Purpose
"Its overall aim," said associate education professor Merrill Harmin, who is directing the program, "is to develop a new approach in teaching through questioning, and perhaps rejecting, portions of the traditional structure, and to bring new ideas to bear."

In addition, Dean Wantling said, the educators will work in close contact with education graduates and hopefully give them a firmer idea of the real problems encountered in primary education. "Learning about education is more than a simple matter of reading books and going to lectures," he stressed.

A sister program to NEXTEP, Dean Wantling said, would send undergraduate education majors who hadn't any teaching experience to a variety of grade schools and high schools, including Granite City high, to work as understudies to the teachers there.

The education majors will be in the back of the classrooms, watching their counselor-teachers in action, and later move up to the front to do some actual teaching themselves, according to Dean Wantling.

Coordination Arrangement
In stressing the vital link between education studies and the actual social and psychological condition under which teaching occurs, Dean Wantling said education would be coordinated with the behavioral sciences with reciprocal course arrangements.

For the first time, M.A. degrees will be given for courses in anthropology, psychology and sociology, in historical studies and in psychological studies at the Southwestern campus; in addition Associate in Arts degrees will be granted at the SIU Vocational-Technical Institute in studies leading to post in child care centers.

While there is only one program beginning this fall in the Humanities Division, there are some new courses and new headway for old programs is being sought, according to Dean Gerald J. T. Runkle.

One of the programs Dean Runkle hopes to see bolstered is the tutorial assistance provided for freshmen and sophomores having problems with the freshman English composition courses.

He commented that while a number of students were failing in freshman English, a few had "exploited the tutorial assistance available to them." Because of the large number of flunkies, 200 more students than there were actually freshmen had enrolled for fall quarter freshman English when he checked last three weeks ago, Dean Runkle said.

Dean Runkle said there had been a big jump in the numbers of students enrolling in the 72-hour professional writers concentrations major started two years ago.

This major seeks to teach students with literary ability how to write for money in a variety of fields—newspapers, magazines, fiction and other communications media such as television and radio. Six professional writers in various capacities will be directing the program.

The administration at SIU-SW elected not to provide the school with a separate Journalism major in a recent decision, Dean Runkle said.

Six teaching assistants have been to SIU-SW under a new Fellowship program which provides them with sizeable monthly stipends while they teach freshman English and work for Masters Degrees in English.

Among the new courses under the Humanities division are courses on the Bible and Mythology.

In the Science and Technology division, Dean Laurence McAneny said that a broader, more unified approach would be sought in the natural sciences.

He commented that while past limitations of facilities and staff size had forced separate emphasis on the characteristics of man, animals and plants, the design now would be to link the common characteristics of all organisms, and to liken biology with zoology and botany at the cellular level. He said this would amount to a drastic revision in overall approach.

Expanded Faculty
Facilitating the new emphasis will be a faculty which has expanded to 54 teachers and researchers, and the new $4,183,000 science building, funded in part by the Educational Laboratories, Inc., a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation.

An EFL Foundation spokesman called the new building "the most important advance in the field of undergraduate education."

Science students who previously had their classes and laboratory sessions in cramped quarters at the old East St. Louis high school or at SIU's center in Alton, are moving into the new four-story building.

The building was elaborately equipped with new equipment over the summer. It has a penthouse for growth chambers and a greenhouse, as well as a score of laboratories for students and researchers in physics, chemistry, biology, zoology and physiology.

Majors in engineering physics and computer science can expect a reasonable extension of the old programs, Dean McAneny said.

One new program is afoot in the Social Sciences Division, in addition to the new M.A. degrees mentioned before and the efforts to coordinate social science studies with education studies.

Approximately 25 planning and zoning officials from Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties will participate in the new 10-session program.

586 Students Enroll At McKendree College

McKendree College enrollment climbed to a record high this week as 586 students from five foreign countries, 15 states and the District of Columbia registered for fall classes.

Mrs. Virginia Gillespie, registrar, announced the figure included 330 day students and 257 students taking night courses. There are 139 freshmen, 146 sophomores, 118 juniors, 103 seniors and 15 part-time students.

Foreign students come from Mexico, Iran, Hong Kong, Korea and Bermuda.

study the problems they face in a rapidly urbanizing society and the technical aspects of their office.

Instruction will be given by SIU faculty members and Metropolitan planning and zoning officials.

New Dean
Other projects are pending while the new dean of the division, Earl S. Beard, who arrived at the Southwestern campus late last week, finds time to familiarize himself with his faculty and position.

Dean Beard expressed great enthusiasm over his new position and said it would put him back on his "main intellectual track"—a liberal arts curriculum.

He received a doctor's degree in American intellectual history from the University of Iowa and his last position was dean of a two-year liberal arts training center at the University of Wisconsin. He had taught previously at the University of Maryland, Kansas State University and Mansfield College in Pennsylvania.

The new dean said he plans to go along with present programs and arrangements until he becomes better acquainted with the Edwardsville group.

In the Fine Arts Division, Dean Andrew J. Kochman announced the opening of avocational courses in painting and pottery. No prerequisites are necessary.

"Arrangements have been made to use the splendid studio facilities at the Wagner building in Edwardsville for evening classes. The courses are designed to intrigue the beginner, increase the skill of the amateur and give studio opportunities to more advanced artists and craftsmen," said Prof. Harry Hilber, project director and chairman of the arts and design faculty.

Other new facilities for fine arts students have been opened in the new science building.

WHEN TO SEE A DOCTOR IF WOUNDED

It is most important to know when to see a physician for first aid.

If there is real spurting bleeding, this is an emergency. If a deep bleeding continues beyond four to ten minutes, medical attention is needed. If there is foreign material in the wound which does not clean out easily; if it is a deep puncture wound or is long or wide so that stitches may be required, a physician is needed.

Also, if the wound has been in contact with soil or manure, or if signs of infection such as pain, redness, or swelling develop, don't wait. Expert attention quickly will prevent hours of pain and possible infection.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

College Girls' Choice Is Conservative Styling

More than twice as many college girls prefer a conservative type of clothing rather than the non-conformist kinds, a Southern Illinois University home economics research study indicates.

Bonnie M. Eaglin of Sikeston, Mo., completing the master's degree in home economics at Carbondale, has obtained her thesis on "Relationship Between Certain Personality Traits and Clothing Preferences."

She tested 80 SIU co-eds 30 of them home economics majors, the others recruited in a University residence hall.

On preferences for six different types of clothing, she found 15 preferred distinctly feminine clothing, 6 masculine-type, 16 high fashion styles, 25 conservative attire, and only 11 classed as "non-conformist." Seven she placed in non-preferential group—those who liked two or more types equally well.

Using the California Psychological inventory, she obtained a personality profile of each girl, then correlated various results from this test with those from her own clothing and Color Preference Questionnaire.

The girls preferring feminine clothes had the lowest scores of any of the groups on the scales of social presence, achievement via independence, intellectual efficiency and psychological-mindedness, Mrs. Eaglin said, but had the highest scores on responsibility and socialization. The masculine-oriented group had the highest scores of any group on the scales of dominance, achievement via independence, psychological-mindedness and flexibility, but hit the bottom on sensitivity, sense of well-being, socialization, tolerance, communability.

The high fashion preference group showed almost a straight flat-line profile, ranking somewhat higher than midway on all the personality scales, and with the highest scores of any group on the scales of sociability, self-control, tolerance,

4 GC Students Named Semifinalists by NMSC

Four Granite City high school students have been named semifinalists in the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship program, Lawrence C. McCaulley, principal, announced.

They are Leesa Freedman, Barbara Jackson, Richard W. Weller and Douglas Winter.

The 14,000 semifinalists appointed throughout the nation have advanced to the second step in the competition for about 2900 merit scholarships, valued at more than $8 million, to be awarded in 1968.

Semifinalists scored the highest in each state on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test given last February. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the nation.

The semifinalists are youths of high intellectual potential, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. From this group will come future leaders of business, industry and the professions," he said.

"Deserve Credit, Honor"

"These students deserve credit and honor. They have put forth the effort to develop their abilities and to attain academic success. They bring honor to their families, who deserve much credit, as do their teachers and their communities. Their future success, however, will depend increasingly upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels of which they are capable."

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for merit scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination and submitting information about their achievements and interests.

Every semifinalist who becomes a finalist will be considered for one of about 2400 four-year merit scholarships financed by some 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations and individuals, and by NMSC itself. In addition, about 500 one-time National Merit $1000 Scholarships will be awarded for the first time in 1968.

$1500 Annual Awards
Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual needs. Winners of the $1000 scholarships will receive one-time grants of $1000 upon enrollment in college.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, extra-curricular activities and school citizenship of the finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

Names of the merit scholars in the 1967-68 program will be announced by early May. More than 15,000 students have received merit scholarships in the 12 annual programs to date. More than $52 million in financial assistance to merit scholars and their colleges has been expended or committed through the program so far.

Oil Firm Gives $500 For Business Education

The Marathon Oil Co. has given $500 to the school of business at Eastern Illinois University, Dr. James Giffin, director of the school, announced today.

'Glue Sniffing' Can Cause Mental and Physical Health Problem

By M. E. BARTOSIAK

Model airplane building has been a favorite hobby among youngsters for many decades, but an associated factor is causing a mental and physical health problem which is increasing rapidly among adolescents in the Quad-Cities to-day.

It's called "glue sniffing," the use of an ingredient which comes in a tube with every model airplane kit sold in local stores.

The stuff is toxic and creates hallucinations which at times resemble the effects of LSD. Psychologists, physicians and juvenile authorities here are becoming increasingly alarmed and are trying to determine the best methods to cope with the problem.

The tubes are available at any shop or drug store that sell model airplane kits. Some merchants have become aware of the improper use of the sweet-smelling adhesive as adolescents attempt to purchase the stuff in quantities, without buying an airplane kit.

Easily Available
Several stores in this area stock the tubes on shelves, making shopping an easy matter.

Authorities here state that one tube would have no damaging effect, but one youngster who became a client of juvenile authorities admitted to sniffing 10 tubes a day. He named another who uses 40 tubes a day.

A prominent physician and a psychiatrist in Granite City said that these adolescents have definite emotional problems and should be referred to authorities.

The toxic fumes can effect

the liver, lungs and brain, one physician said, citing a recent study made in California.

Another said that it also can have an effect on x-ray pictures taken of the lungs.

Habit Forming
The use of glue is habit forming but is not addictive, and the habit can be broken more easily than the cigaret habit, authorities said.

Some children from the age of eight years are known to have the habit, and a few who are 17 and 19 years old have been arrested for sniffing the glue.

They include every economic group, and some parents are finding themselves with quite a problem.

One mother told authorities that her son, left without the fumes, "crawls along the wall."

Another mother found out about her son when she saw him with 500 paper bags.

A parent cannot accuse their children of this type of thing without evidence, a doctor said, "but 500 paper bags is evidence, and when they become aware of it, the parents should send the kids to a psychiatrist. He has an emotional problem."

Parental Responsibility
Staff members at the Mental Health Clinic in Granite City are urging parents to refer such children to the clinic for help.

The use of hallucinatory fumes, which creates the effect of intoxication, shows psychological symptoms of great need, a local psychiatrist said.

"There is something lacking in their lives. If they have a good life, they don't need glue. They don't sniff it by themselves. It creates togetherness."

The habit could lead to the later use of narcotics, and youngsters under the influence of the glue would be "setting ducks" for dope pushers, authorities said.

Though few have been arrested, groups of youngsters have been repeatedly "getting high" in Wilson park, at theaters, on city streets, recreation centers and other places.

A Granite City resident interested in juvenile matters reported that one young driver, 19, was being chased by police when the auto went through the fence of his home, coming to a halt in a yard next door.

Unable to See
The young man, who was "high," said he was unable to see the fence. The same youth was arrested by police at a street corner on a glue sniffing charge, with another charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The practice of glue sniffing began here on a small scale, but many youngsters thought it was the smart thing to do, and the challenge is—"you're chicken if you don't try," a doctor said.

Mental health authorities here said there is no pattern to the practice and no real symptoms, and more studies must be made. Some of the youngsters who have the habit are fairly well adjusted, and psychotherapy won't help some of them.

But group psychotherapy for the adolescents and their parents is being suggested at the clinic here.

"The best way to resolve the situation is to dry up the source," one official said. "Prevent the youngsters from getting it—especially not more than one tube at a time. One tube would be enough to build a number of model airplanes."

It was suggested that manufacturers change the chemical structure in the material, but the adhesive agents causing the toxic fumes are necessary. It was pointed out, and attempts to remove the product from the market would produce long-range outcries from the manufacturers.

Student Groups
A seminar being conducted during the past year by South ern Illinois University on the use of LSD and drugs by college and high school students led to the suggestion that student groups themselves become informed of the habit and effects on persons and acquaintances could make it an important project throughout the school year.

The youngsters seem to want to talk about their habit with authorities, and it was learned that refinements are being made in the art of sniffing glue—that it is against state law for any youngster under the age of 17 to purchase the glue, that it is against state law for any merchant to sell it to a juvenile, and that it is against state law for anyone to sniff it.

Parked Auto Struck
An auto owned by H. W. Lochner Inc., East St. Louis, parked at the curb at 24th and Iowa streets, was struck in the right side by another driven by Patricia Collier, 2233 East 25th street, who was making a right turn on Monday. She said she was ill and misjudged the distance.

Radio Aerial Broken
John Boswell, 2143 Washington avenue, reported at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday that during the night the radio antenna was torn from his 1965 auto while it was parked in front of his home.

Pet Turtles Can Spread Salmonella Infection
Many of the thousands of baby turtles sold daily throughout the country frequently are infected with salmonella, according to Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois State Department of Public Health which has been conducting studies of the salmonella infection rate.

Dr. Yoder said the department's Division of Laboratories has determined in its studies that the salmonella infection rate in pet turtles selected at random may range as high as 70%.

In almost every reported case involving turtles, one of three means of spreading was involved, Dr. Yoder pointed out. These include:

1. Children in the hand-to-mouth stage had handled the turtles;

2. Turtle water had been dumped in the kitchen sink;

3. Turtles had been placed in dishes later used for food.

Since studies definitely have determined the infection rate, the health department no longer will accept turtles for salmonella studies. Individual pet turtles suspected of being the source of proved cases of salmonella infection within a household still will be accepted for culture, he said.

Salmonella is a bacteria that causes, or may cause, food poisoning, gastro-intestinal inflammation or diseases of the genital tract.

New Grain Sampling Plan Initiated by Illinois

The Illinois Department of Agriculture initiated Monday an unusual new method of testing grain samples in transit on the Mississippi river, a system that will reduce substantially the time and costs of grain testing.

Robert M. Schneider, director of the Illinois Agricultural Department, and approximately 150 persons gathered on the riverfront to witness inauguration of the new "in-movement" system. Schneider said the program marks another milestone in setting the pace for the nation in the new grain sampling.

Previously a barge from a tow of grain was removed and moored to the riverbank while its contents were sampled, a procedure that frequently tied up the barge for as long as 15 days during peak periods.

The new program uses a two man crew and a boat which approaches barge tows in transit and takes the federally required samples of grain without disrupting the tow. The tests are mandatory in interstate commerce and the new system will save considerable money for the shippers who must pay the cost of the tests. The new testing system will cost about $85 for each sampling.

The boat making the mid-river runs was christened during the afternoon by Mrs. Eugene Hugo, wife of the president of the Merchants Exchange of St. Louis.

John Smith, chief inspector of the East St. Louis Grain Inspection Bureau, said the new program will be invaluable during peak shipment of grain which is due early next month.

THE SCHOOL CROSSING GUARD
she protects our children...

The school crossing guard is an unusual member of the police department. She wears the familiar badge and uniform, but she seldom chases a criminal, investigates a crime, or writes a traffic ticket.

Like the patrolman, she has a bat. Hers is a busy intersection which children must cross on their way to and from school. Her job is to watch over them.

As the school crossing guard steps from the curb with hand raised, motorists bring their vehicles to a stop. The nod of her head begins a parade of girls and boys across a busy thoroughfare. When they reach the other side the guard lowers her hand and steps to the curb. Traffic resumes its normal flow.

She repeats this performance until all of the children under her care have crossed the intersection. The next ringing of the school bell finds her back at her post.

She is proud of her job because she recognizes its importance. Not only is she guarding the lives of youngsters, she is also relieving a policeman for other assignments.

She's an unusual member of the police department, but a very important one.

Governor of Guam Honors Rbdt. Flader

Senior Chief Musician Robert L. Flader, U. S. Navy, recently was awarded the "Ancient Order of Chamorro" from the governor of Guam, the honorable Manuel F. L. Guerrero. Flader, who worked for General Steel Industries here before enlisting in February 1961, is the son of Mrs. Corinne Flader, a former resident of Granite City who now lives in Caseyville. He is the first enlisted person to receive the high honor which normally is presented to officers and dignitaries for their accomplishments on Guam. Chief Flader received the award, according to a news release to the Press-Record from the Commander of Naval Forces Marianas, for his musical contributions to the civilian community on Guam. During his two-year tour as leader of the Commander Naval Forces Marianas Band, the Navy musician initiated a series of annual school concerts, completing 52 in the past school year.

Car Skids, Hits Trees
A car driven by Darlene Bouman, 19, of 1415 Niedringhaus avenue, skidded on rain-wet pavement in the 400 block of Madison avenue at 12:50 a.m. yesterday, jumped the curb and ran into evergreen trees by a business building. Madison police reported the car was undamaged. The driver was charged with careless driving and a magistrate hearing is set Oct. 11.

Child Reading Program Planned
A unique television training program for parents of pre-school children will be initiated on Nov. 22 by the St. Louis Educational Television Commission, when Kete-TV, Channel 9, begins airing the telecourse, "Preparing Your Child for Reading."

The series of 16 half-hour telecasts will be aired at 7 p.m. Wednesdays with a repeat showing at 4:45 p.m. Fridays, starting Nov. 22 and 24. Parents of children between the ages of four and six who have not yet begun first grade may register now for the telecourse and receive a kit of materials designed to accompany the telecourse. Registration may be handled by mail through the Office of the Registrar, Kete, 6996 Millbrook Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63130.

Hostess for the series is Mrs. LaNore Adams, primary coordinator of instruction for the Denver, Colo., public school system and a veteran "study teacher" for the Krm-TV "School of the Air" in Denver. The format for the series includes dramatic vignettes featuring a television family of parents and pre-schoolers.

The "Preparing Your Child for Reading" telecourse for parents is not designed to help parents teach their children to read but rather attempts to guide them in planning appropriate reading readiness activities for their pre-schoolers. Extensive testing of the television training program has indicated that children whose parents have followed the series and utilized the suggestions included in it learn to read much more readily than those who have not been exposed to the activities included.

Social Concern Council To Select Officials
The Quad-Cities Social Concern Council will hold its monthly meeting at 11:45 a.m. Friday, Oct. 6, in St. Elizabeth Hospital library. It was announced today by Marvin Van Metre, chairman pro-tem. The council chairman asks delegates to note the change from the usual Wednesday meeting date. He also reminds those attending for the first time that the group joins the hospital cafeteria line at 11:45 a.m. sharp, to avoid congesting the area at the noon rush hour. Council members and guests dine in the library across from the cafeteria, he said. Van Metre pointed out that since the constitution and by-laws were adopted at the Aug. 2 meeting, selection of the initial board of directors and officers now is planned. Each participating agency may be represented by two persons, the chairman added. A portion of next Friday's meeting will be devoted to defining the list of organizations from which delegate representatives will be sought, Van Metre reported.

Park District May Add Bus For Ozark Trip

Four days after the Granite City park district announced its second annual, one-day excursion to the scenic Ozark region would take place the entire allotment of 135 tickets was sold and a waiting list of 25 persons established.

Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today that should sufficient reservations be made to fill a fourth bus and arrangements completed for meals for the additional 45 passengers, an extra bus will be added to the Oct. 15 trip. Twenty more reservations are necessary to enable the park district to charter another vehicle, he pointed out.

Reservations may be made this week, by calling the Wilson Park office, at TR 7-3059. Cost per person will be $5, including round-trip transportation and Sunday dinner at the Black River Lodge, near Lesterville, Mo. A similar facility will be contacted if the lodge is unable to accommodate the additional persons, the supervisor said. Tips and taxes are included in the $5 charge. Brown commented.

Excursionists will board the buses at 9 a.m. Oct. 15, at the 27th and State streets entrance to Wilson Park. Passengers will arrive at the lodge about 1 p.m., with the meal to be served at 1:30 p.m., and the return journey starting at 3 p.m. The group will arrive at the Wilson Park departure point at 7 p.m.

This year's all-day trip will take the toursters in picturesque Ozark Highlands, near Taum Sauk Mountain—the highest point in Missouri, an area noted for its scenic beauty.

Kiwanians to Hold Annual Peanut Sale

The Granite City Kiwanis club will hold its annual "Kids Day" peanut sale Friday evening and all-day Saturday in the city's business districts.

Each year Kiwanians sell salted-in-the-shell peanuts to raise funds for worthwhile projects involving Granite City children. Last year the club raised more than $800.

During the past year the club sponsored a midge division baseball team in the Granite City park district program and provided eyeglasses and clothing for needy children.

Hospital Procedures Here Admired by Nun from German Hospital

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Comparison between administrative procedures of Catholic hospitals operated by the Sisters of Divine Providence in Germany and St. Elizabeth Hospital here was given close scrutiny last week by a distinguished Mother Provincial from Aschaffenburg, Germany, who said she plans to adopt some of the policies of her American Sisters—especially employment of lay people.

Mother Provincial Mary Flavia, one of six provincial mothers in the hierarchy of the Sisters of Divine Providence, spent several days at the motherhouse in Normandy, Mo., and subsequently visited here, while enroute home from a three-week inspection tour and visit to a six-year-old mission hospital at Abancay, Peru, South America.

On the 10,000 mile trip to South America and the U. S., Mother Flavia is accompanied by Mother General Pierre, Ph.D., of Rome, Italy, head of the Order of Divine Providence, whose original home was in the St. Louis area.

Left Germany Aug. 8, the two nuns left Frankfurt, Germany, on Aug. 8, flying by jet plane to Lima, Peru, via New York and Bogota, Columbia.

From Lima, they traveled by smaller aircraft to Cusco, Peru, and four hours later, after navigating treacherous, winding mountain roads in a "high-wheeled" truck, arrived at their destination in Abancay. Eight Sisters of the Order established the mission-kindergarten-hospital in the Andes mountain village in 1961. It was learned. All the founding Sisters are from Mother Flavia's own Province of St. Paul, in Germany.

Garbed in a simple habit of light grey, worsted material which she interviewed at the local hospital, Mother Flavia explained through an interpreter the habit is worn by Sisters on duty at missions in the field, or, in some instances, when teaching kindergarten classes. She commented the grey color is less likely to show dust and grime while performing the harder chores of mission life, or the sticky finger marks and other frequently encountered hazards of kindergarten duty, than the traditional white raiment of the hospital Sisters or the Order's black and white habits.

Local Interpreter

Serving effectively as translator for the interview was Sister Mary Benedict, St. Elizabeth Hospital pharmacist and a native of the same region of Germany from which the Provincial Mother originates.

Mother Flavia was greatly impressed with the number of lay people involved in the operation and administration of St. Elizabeth Hospital, a practice unknown in the German Catholic hospitals.

She also was interested to learn of the existence of a hospital lay advisory board, composed of local civic leaders, whose members advise the Sisters and were instrumental in spearheading the recent, successful hospital fund-raising drive.

In Germany, Mother Flavia disclosed, the federal government now contributes one-third of the cost toward construction of hospitals and also loans the Catholic orders funds, without interest, to defray the remaining building expenditures. Patients pay for hospital services, which provides operating revenue and some voluntary gifts are contributed by individuals.

The Provincial Mother noted that funds loaned for construction of the 125-bed hospital at Lampertshausen, one of three hospitals in her jurisdiction, were repaid over a 14-year period.

Hospitals in Order

In addition to Lampertshausen, Mother Flavia's Province includes a 145-bed hospital, located in an old castle at Darmstadt, a 375-bed hospital at Offenbach, and a small 45-bed hospital at Lorsch. The Order currently is establishing a small mission hospital and orphanage in Korea, she said.

Nurse Shortage There

An acute shortage of nurses is evident throughout Germany today and few lay nurses are employed at any Catholic hospital there, Mother Flavia said. She pointed out that at the 375-bed Offenbach hospital, only 25 active Sisters are on duty, with the hospital's entire staff consisting of 150 persons.

In comparison, St. Elizabeth's 250-bed facility is staffed by 600 persons. Mother Flavia noted that extensive use of lay nurses and other personnel here "is a very good thing. We have so much to learn about this system and hope eventually to incorporate some of these ideas into the hospitals in Germany."

Commenting that her plane trip from Europe was her first flight, which she enjoyed immensely, Mother Flavia also noted this was her initial trip to the Americas. From her brief stay here, she said, the United States appears very similar to West Germany.

Far different, however, is the under-developed areas of South America, which, in her own words—"are not quite civilized. Until very recently, the Sisters at Abancay rode on donkeys and mules from Cusco to Abancay and still use this method of transportation to visit the sick," she said.

At first, the Sisters lived in a stable. Later, the Peruvian government built the present mission for them, she explained.

Views on Germany

Questioned about the division of Germany into East and West, Mother Flavia said, "This is a very bad situation." She related first-hand knowledge of many Czechoslovakian and Yugoslavian Sisters from other Orders in East Germany, who are forced to do heavy work, sleep in one room and live under extreme conditions. A qualified nurse for three decades, Mother Flavia joined the Order of Divine Providence in 1937 during the Nazi regime, when young women were strongly discouraged from becoming nuns. "Today in Germany, you find either young nuns or old ones. Only two or three postulants entered the Order at the time I did," she said.

Mentioning the difficulties encountered under the Nazi government and later during the war years, Mother Flavia said that air raids destroyed the Convent of Perpetual Adoration in Mainz, killing three Sisters and the Mother Superior, while heavy damage was inflicted on St. Hildegard Hospital, near Mainz.

"About 60 patients were kept in the cellars and the rest removed to other hospitals," she recalled. "With the little food we had, it was hard to find strength to carry the patients each night into the air raid shelters."

She said the French prisoners of war helped the Sisters remove the rubble of bombed-out buildings and the Sisters themselves mixed mortar and laid bricks to rebuild the devastated hospitals.

"Noble Americans"

"When the Americans came, they were noble and willing to help us," Mother Flavia said. "They furnished us with drug supplies, K-rations, coffee, sugar and other items which could be spared. These supplies were essential for the patients and we thought the American military very kind."

"We walked everywhere to visit the sick," she explained, and recalled one young American GI who stopped his jeep and offered her a lift. When I hesitated, I remember him saying,

Found on Refound

An auto stolen in St. Louis from Edmond Jackson, St. Louis, was found at 3:30 p.m. Monday abandoned at Bissell and Refound streets in Venice, according to a report by Venice police.

ing "That's alright Sister, you don't have to worry, I was raised by the Sisters in America."

Sisters of the Order drive cars in Germany as here, but many favor bicycles on their rounds to visit shut-in patients, Mother Flavia commented. She commented that along with many other Sisters, she was not impressed with the new-style, shorter-length habits worn by some nuns. "I prefer the ankle-length attire," she explained.

Before returning to Germany, Mother General Pierre and Mother Provincial Flavia will visit Chicago, Boston and Pittsburgh.

"I am learning as much as possible from my experiences," she said. "Everyone is very accommodating and kind and we are most interested in finding out more about your ways and methods here," she added.
